THE NEW ZEALAND GEOGRAPHER

Volume Seven
1951

PUBLISHED BY THE NEW ZEALAND GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY
(INCORPORATED)
Christchurch, N.Z.
1951

CONTENTS

VOLUME SEVEN, 1951

Number One, April

		PAGE
Pastoral Murihiku	By Howard J. Critchfield	1
Metropolitan Auckland: The Contemporary Character of a New Zealand Metropolis	By L. L. Pownall	21
The Application of the Concept of Evapotranspiration to Moisture Problems in New Zealand	By B. J. Garnier	43
Fault Valleys and Shutter Ridges at Wellington	By C. A. Cotton	62
The Utilisation of Exotic Forests in New Zealand	By Clive Tidmarsh	69
Photogeography: The Wealth of Exotic Forests		74
New Zealand Geographical Society: Branch Affairs		80
Geographic Notebook		82
In Our Contemporaries		89
Reviews		95

Number Two, October

		PAGE
Seacliffs of Banks Peninsula and Wellington: Some Criteria for Coastal Classification (Part I)	By C. A. Cotton	103
The Citrus Industry of the Cook Islands	By W. B. Johnston	121
Geography and Land-use Survey in the Southwest Pacific: A Review and Suggestion	By Kenneth B. Cumberland	139
Railway Transport in New Zealand	By James W. Fox	154
Photogeography: Railways: Arteries of Steel		162
New Zealand Geographical Society: Branch Affairs		168
Geographic Notebook		170
In Our Contemporaries		178
Reviews		180

AUTHORS ARE ALONE RESPONSIBLE FOR THEIR RESPECTIVE STATEMENTS.